

An Astrological Lemniscate Problem-Solving Spread

This spread can be used for many purposes, but it is mainly a problem-solving layout. It consists of an “awareness horizon” and several interlocking hemispheres. The Sun-Moon axis (with the Ascendant as “Significator”) defines your current position in the matter. Everything below the horizon shows what you know or suspect about the internal aspects of the situation (within your sphere of influence) and everything above that which you know or suspect about external factors (outside your span of control). The flow moves from Aries (Card #1) to Pisces (Card #12). The “action loop” leads toward solar self-realization and suggests what you should do, both alone (below) and cooperatively (above), while the “reaction loop” expresses lunar self-reflection and the likely emotional impact of your actions, both on yourself (below) and on others (above). The Ascendant, Sun and Moon positions can be populated with the cards associated with the decans of their locations in your birth chart, or pulled randomly from a second deck. Reversals may be used if you like.
